The teachers told them the benefits of protecting mother earth with a green cover and the harmful effects of not doing so.

Mentoring & career counselling

Students had the opportunity to visit Barclays and experience the corporate working with industry leasers. They were guided and counselled about their careers. Exposure and guidance was given on resume building, enhancing body language, personal grooming, and preparation for the interview. The session was in pure corporate style, filled with motivation, confidence and leadership in an interactive and fun-filled manner. Students were spellbound and mesmerized with the experience.

Providing the right career solutions

Volunteers from EXL Service facilitated class 10th students of OM and inspired them to aspire for greater heights in life through a career planning workshop this week. The objective was to enable the students for career planning and to assess their talents, develop their skills and to get proper guidance about the numerous career options available in every stream. Workshops like these always guide students to improve their performance in academics and enable them to grow with knowledge, motivation, and freedom to make intelligent career choices.

Enhancing aspiration through “OORJA”

Barclays through its OORJA program motivated and encouraged the students from OM Foundation’s Skill Development Program towards improving their lives and inculcating the basic values. OM through its skill development program is helping the students learn the skills and confidence needed to upgrade the lives of the underprivileged and weaker sections of the society.

Learning through “Theatres”

Students of OM Foundation School were indulged in the several aspects of theatre in past few months. While some played mind-boggling games like Mafia to push critical reasoning, others watched "Theatre is a calling, not a profession", a TEDx Talk by poet Piyush Mishra during a need based intervention in respect to the values that need to be revived among children in the school, facilitated by Labhya Foundation. Our children explored the core reasons to find purpose in life and iterated on their purpose in silence.

Nand Kishore of 19 years, joined Skill Development Program of OM Foundation last year. He was a part of the program for 6 months. He went through the whole curriculum with full dedication and got his first job into Ananda Dairy as a store-in-charge in January 2018. Soon, his caliber & dedication was realized by his supervisor and he got promoted to store supervisor.

He dedicates his achievement to OM & his Skill Development trainer who helped him gaining a focus on his overall development.

School reopens after summer break

The transition from the freedom of the summer vacations to becoming a full-fledged student again is completely worth it, OM Foundation school reopens with all the doors towards learning new skills. The students were excited to meet their friends and teachers again.
